NEW YORK, JULY, 1862.

The recent sale of Coins by MESSRS. BANGS, MERWIN & Co., of this city, has attracted so much attention, and called forth so many enquiries, that the subscriber has determined to send a Priced Catalogue to Collectors living at a distance, leaving it for each one to send the cost (fifty cents) in stamps, or to return the book.

The prices have been carefully copied from the Auctioneers' books, and high as they undoubtedly are, it is by no means certain that higher figures will not yet be reached, for fine specimens of our national coins.

The subscriber takes this opportunity to thank Collectors generally for their courtesy and liberality on this occasion, and also to congratulate successful bidders upon their acquisitions.

W. A. LILLIENDAHL,

93 William Street,

NEW YORK.

PHILADELPHIA, 48 NORTH TENTH ST.,

May 3d, 1862.

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request, I have, in connection with my friend Mr. STROBRIDGE, examined the collection of coins intended to be offered for sale by you during the present month; and I have much pleasure in stating my opinion that the collectors will find them truthfully described.

Yours, faithfully,

EDWARD COGAN.

This Catalogue is sent out to collectors unknown, as well as known, to the subscriber, in the confident expectation that it will create a fresh interest in their pursuit, and that many will avail themselves of an opportunity so rare and so favorable, to add something precious to their cabinets.

For the carefulness and accuracy of the descriptions, he would refer to his valued friend's note to the owner, copied above.

WILLIAM H. STROBRIDGE.
